

Statement of Intent; uses Chicago style

With my technical aptitude and work experience, I believe I would be a good fit for the open position in your marketing department. My past experience as a developer provides a good foundation for supporting PhishLabs's Web presence. With my computer science education and CompTIA Security+ certification, I am capable of understanding and elucidating PhishLabs's contributions to computer security. My work at a marketing agency provided insight into building and maintaining customer relationships. Finally, my background in editing gives me an eye for detail, a desire for perfection, and excellent communications skills, both written and verbal. With my skillset and enthusiasm, I will help PhishLabs grow.

Sports Brief; based on the box score; uses AP Stylebook

OKLAHOMA CITY — With 40 points, Russell Westbrook led the Oklahoma City Thunder to a win against the San Antonio Spurs 105-92. Tuesday night's victory tied the series at two games each in the Western Conference finals.

Westbrook's outstanding game included five rebounds, 10 assists, five steals and a block for the night. Helping the Thunder were Kevin Durant, with 31 points, and Serge Ibaka, with nine.

For the Spurs, Boris Diaw had 14 points and 10 rebounds, with three assists. Tony Parker also had 14 points, and Cory Joseph added 11. San Antonio will host Game 5 on Thursday.

Entertainment Brief; based on the Spoleto 2014 schedule; uses AP Stylebook

CHARLESTON — The opera Facing Goya presents a thrilling adventure prompted by the rediscovery of the skull belonging to Romantic painter Francisco Goya.

Presented at the Dock Street Theatre, this opera is sung in English and features music by composer Michael Nyman, who is famous for his film score for The Piano. Singaporean director Ong Keng Sen leads the macabre production. Grab a seat at this exciting Spoleto 2014 event, with shows May 25, 27, 31, June 4 and 7.